From Altar to Altar

(No. 1. Look for No. 2 next week.)

The Cradle

A happy mother who looks for the first time into her baby's eyes has realized life. It may be that she has given strength and health for the treasure.

She may be weak and "run down."

She needs her strength for baby's sake as well as her own.

A new home has been started and a strong mother is the bulwark of that home.

A COLLECTION FOR THE POPE

BISHOP ALLEN ISSUES AN APPEAL FOR FUNDS FOR SUPPORT OF HIS HOLINESS.

Rev. Father Fullerton, of St. Michael's Catholic church, has received the following appeal for funds with which to support the Supreme Pontiff, from Bishop Allen, of Mobile:

Although governing the church of God but a short time, Pope Pius X has already won the esteem and love of the faithful throughout the world. His saintly character, his zeal for religion, and above all his Christian charity, has drawn all hearts to him. While we love and reverence him for his personal qualities, we reverence him above all because he is the Vicar of Jesus and His representative here on earth who is the infallible Guide, appointed to lead the faithful in the paths of holiness, virtue and truth. We trace the long line of Sovereign Pontiffs back in unbroken succession from Pius X to Peter—the Prince of the Apostles, and the present venerable Pontiff inherits all the rights, powers and prerogatives vested in St. Peter, the first Pope. He is the Shepherd to whom Christ entrusted His flock, the one for whom Christ prayed that his faith might never fail, so that "being converted himself he might ever confirm his brethren" in the faith. As our spiritual Father our relations with him are most direct and intimate. It is our duty, therefore, to help him in his world wide work of governing the church and extending its missions. In former ages the patrimony of St. Peter was available for the support of the Supreme Pontiff but in modern times, he has been sacrilegiously deprived of this, and in consequence, is forced to depend on the charity of his spiritual children in every land.

Last January his Excellency, the Apostolic Delegate, Mons. D. Falconio wrote thanking you, for the name of his Holiness, for the offerings given in 1904, and imparting a special blessing to all who contributed. He stated that: "Notwithstanding the generous response of the American people, the financial condition of the Holy See is far from being prosperous or satisfactory. The present state of the most prosperous nations of Europe and the increased demands on the funds of the Church, are the principal causes of the actual financial situation of the Holy See—a situation on which our Holy Father looks with alarm, because unless his children come forward more liberally to his assistance, notwithstanding the most rigid economy practiced in every department, he can hardly meet the exigencies of the vast administration of the Church."

Please read this letter to your faithful people and urge them to respond generously to the appeal.

Praying the Holy Spirit to enlighten and direct you, I am

Faithfully yours,

EDW. P. ALLEN,
Bishop of Mobile.

ETIQUETTE IN 1628.

In a Book Written Then Are Things Which Sound Curious Now.

What is probably one of the oldest books on deportment in existence was published in Paris in 1628 and is entitled "Good Manners in Converse Among Men." The text is in French, with a Latin translation.

Deportment in public is first touched upon. "In yawning do not groan," this ancient guide to politeness says, "and do not gape even when speaking. In blowing thy nose do it as one would sound a trumpet and afterward regard not fixedly thy handkerchief. Avoid wiping thy nose as the children do—with thy fingers or upon thy sleeve. When listening to some one speaking do not wiggle about, but keep thyself in thy skin the while."

It must have been hard to obey this latter injunction, judging from what is said a little farther along. "Kill not fleas or the like in the presence of others, but excuse thyself and remove whatever torments thee."

Three hundred years ago gentlemen did not wear such sad colored costumes, as they do today, and one cannot help feeling that a little pride and swagger were excusable in a dandy of those days when he donned for the first time a particularly fetching costume of high colored silken doublet and hose. Yet this "guide" remarks severely: "If thou art well bedizen'd, if thy hose be tightly drawn and thy habit be well ordered, parade not thyself, but carry thyself with becoming modesty. Demean not thyself arrogantly, neither go mincingly about. Let not thy hands hang limply to the ground and tuck not up thy hose at every turn."

"Do not embellish thyself with flowers upon thy ear" is another injunction which sounds curiously today, but the advice, "When speaking, raise not thy voice as if thou wert crying an edict," is as just as pertinent now as when the budding young gentlemen of La France had it drummed into them.

Table manners in those days must have been rather more primitive even than those of some of the fifty cent table d'hotes in our cities, for the book says, "Being seated at the table, scratch not thyself, and if thou must cough or spit or wipe thy nose do it decorously and without a great noise."

"Stuff not thy mouth with food when eating, and drink not too much of the wine if thou art not master of the house. Show not overmuch pleasure either at the meats or wine."

"In taking salt have a care that thy knife be not greasy. When it is necessary to clean that or the fork, do it neatly with the napkin or a little bread, but never with the entire loaf. Smell not of the meats, and, if by chance thou dost, put them not back afterward before another."

"It is a very indecent thing to wipe the sweat from thy face with thy napkin, or with the same to blow thy nose or clean the plate or platter."

BIG DEMAND FOR DRESSED LUMBER NECESSITATES RUNNING MILLS DAY AND NIGHT—PERSONAL ITEMS.

Special to The Journal.

Bagdad, June 14.—The steamer Simpson is in dry dock here, putting on a new wheel and shaft.

The big demand from the interior for dressed lumber has necessitated the running of the planing mill night and day for the past two weeks and this order will probably continue indefinitely.

Mrs. A. J. Breaker and children left Monday for their old home in Lakeview, Mich., to spend the balance of the summer.

Miss Jessie Griffin of Pensacola, is visiting friends here.

Ben Thompson Creary of Corinth, Miss., is visiting relatives here.

Conductor Carol White, of the Stearns-Culver Co. log train, has moved his family from Pensacola here.

Hon. J. H. Harvell has been confined to his home by illness for several days. He is, however, improving now.

Capt. Harry Deviding and wife, of Orange county, Fla., one of Milton's former citizens is visiting John Hanshaw and family.

MAYOR BLISS WINS APPROVAL

HIS DISPOSAL OF POLICE COURT CASES HAS GOOD EFFECT ALL AROUND.

Mayor Bliss is winning approval on all sides by the attention which he is giving to the duties of his new office and by the various rulings which he is putting into effect.

An old practice by a certain class of witnesses and defendants in police court has been that of perjury and they have previously suffered little, if any, punishment for it. Mayor Bliss, however, where he has caught a witness perjuring himself, has turned the case over to the county and the perjurer will there have to answer to the state law on that subject.

The mayor has also adopted a new practice in dealing with immoral negro women who are arrested for loitering about the streets. Instead of sentencing them to pay a fine, which is usually paid by some male friend of the defendant, he puts them at work for ten days on the rock pile. This, he thinks, will have the effect of keeping that class of women off the streets.

The mayor's orders that the uniform of a policeman must be respected and that any one resisting arrest will be put to work on the streets is also having a good effect and has been of material assistance to the police in effecting arrests and preserving order.

The affairs of the police court will now rest in the hands of Recorder Laney and no one doubts but that he will carry out the good work which Mayor Bliss has already commenced.

BEER drinkers are the happiest people in the world. As a rule they are healthy, humane and wholesome. Whiskey drinkers are morose, irritable and at times vicious and their nerves run riot continually. Whiskey excites, intoxicates and afterwards irritates. Beer—that is, good beer, such as Dueseldorfer—refreshes and demands no payment from the nerves. If people would only drink beer; if they would make up their minds to ignore the rye, the bourbon and the wines, and drink only that which contains the strength and tonic properties of nature, the newspapers would have less misery and crime to record, and the "evils of intemperance" would be a dead and forgotten issue.

Danderine Is So Exhilarating, Invigorating

and strengthening to both the hair and scalp that even a 25c. bottle of it is often enough to show wonderful improvements. It at once imparts a sparkling brilliancy and velvety softness to the hair, and a few weeks' use will cause new hair to sprout out all over the scalp, and grow abundantly, long and beautiful. Use it every day for awhile, after which two or three times a week will be enough to complete whatever growth you desire.

NOW at all druggists, in three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle.
